ELECTRIC ROADS.

In some of our smaller cities not far remote from larger ones are urged some objections. The main and only one worthy of serious attention is the statement that the larger city would get the better in the balance of trade should we be of easier access as the result from electric roads. Before we declared in favor of electric roads to and from this city we looked this matter up, studied it closely. We found in Shelbyville some years ago objections were raised to many railroads coming in and going out because Louisville, with her great enterprises, her large importers, only thirty-five miles away, they thought would be hurtful to the interests of retailers in the small city. Now after a lapse of fifteen years Shelbyville has better and more stores, business is brisk and nearer a cash basis than ever before. Old houses have been replaced with new ones, the main street is of vitrified brick, farm lands have increased more than twenty-five per cent, and the people are eager for an electric road with less rates and more frequent trips, telephone exchanges, etc. We are informed that that county has at least 400 subscribers to various systems of telephones and free mail delivery is in the near future. If the steam roads have materially aided business in Shelby county would not electric roads be beneficial to the citizens of Montgomery county? When the building of a railroad from Mt. Sterling to Lexington was first agitated objectors said: "When that road is built you may say good bye to our business." The road was built; what about our business? Later the question of extending the road came up. The same argument was used, and instead of hurting business it helped it again. Then we payed large subscriptions for roads, and to day we would not for the money spent, enormous as it was, take it and return to former conditions. It will be so with electric lines. Our people will reap of their benefits and be glad they are here and have webbed the entire country. Some may censure the more aggressive but praise will come later.

RIGHT YOU ARE.

W. B. O'Connell, County Clerk of Montgomery county, is a candidate for Clerk of the Court of Appeals, and if successful will no doubt be an honor to the people he represents. There are others asking the same honor, but we feel that the people of Nicholas should not forget or neglect Mr. O'Connell, as he is an adjacent county Democrat and a most efficient County Clerk of several years' experience.—Nicholas County Democrat.

Claim the Goebel Reward Commission is Unconstitutional.

A petition was filed by H. C. Eyers in the Franklin Circuit Court Tuesday in the name of David M. Covington, of Leslie county, seeking to enjoin the Goebel Reward Commission from exercising any claims to the auditor, and also seeking to enjoin the auditor from paying such claims. The claim is set up in the petition that the Reward Commission is unconstitutional and void.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT.

John D. Long, Secretary of the Navy, and Elihu Root, Secretary of War, all take a whack at the man who led the Flying Squadron into the fight that destroyed the Santiago fleet, upholding the Majority report, ignoring the Minority report. Gen. Miles is told to shut his mouth and Historian MacLay is discharged because he exulted in the Court Findings.

In three steps efforts have been made to close the Schley controversy, though it may be forced farther against the wishes of the President, War and Navy Departments, all of whom are now concerned. Secretary Long has approved the findings of the majority of the Court of Inquiry, and his action strikes from the record the dissenting views of Admiral Dewey and also the statement therein that Schley was in command at Santiago. The War Department administered to Lieut. Gen. Miles a severe reprimand for his interview in which he said the people accepted the judgment of Admiral Dewey, and from which he refuses to recede. The President ordered the removal of Edgar S. MacLay, author of the scurrilous attacks upon Schley, because of his boasting interview of vindication when the findings of the Court of Inquiry were made public. It is intimated by Isidor Rayner, counsel for Schley, that if the President does not intervene to save Schley from the stigma that the perpetuation of the majority finding alone would leave, the courts might be called upon to compel the recording also of Dewey's dissent and findings.

Coming Session.

The 55th General Assembly of Kentucky Legislature will convene Jan. 6th. There are many items of interest to be considered during the sixty working days allowed by the Constitution for the work of this body. Two political parties compose this body. Of the 138 men composing the Assembly 74 of the lower house and 25 of the upper are Democrats and 26 of the House and 13 of the Senate Republicans. It is therefore evident how all political matters will be settled. The Senatorial rate, it is hoped, will be settled in great haste and it now appears that McCreary is the people's choice and that the representatives will settle the matter accordingly. As to how the masses of Montgomery and Menefee are we have no doubt. The people would vote were this matter up to them for McCreary first, and so it would be if the people of Montgomery, Clark and Bourbon had the same privilege.

A building fund of $180,000 will be asked of the State with which to construct new capitol buildings, and our friends down in St. Louis will send $100,000 with which to advertise our State productions at their approaching exhibition. (The more for St. Louis), and on this question we would ask our representatives to be very cautious. All suggested measures should be in the hands of the members early.

Want New County.

Citizens of the territory surrounding Olive Hill, at a mass meeting took steps to organize a new county from surrounding territory, and will present a bill to the coming legislature.

Prescriptions accurately compounded at Wesley's Drugstore.

J. C. ENOCH.

In another column is an advertisement of the reduction sale of J. C. Enoch. These goods are all fresh, latest pattern and are cheap at former prices, but in order to reduce the large stock left over from his holiday purchases he has decided to make a sacrifice by offering these heavy discounts. Read the advertisement and make your purchases early.

School Entertainment.

On Dec. 24 Miss Daisy G. Greenwood's school gave a very pleasant entertainment at the Kildeville Baptist church. The choir of fifteen voices made splendid music. The Ribbon and Goodnight drills by ten small children was an attractive feature, as was also Eliza Lockhart's rendering of "Merry Xmas" and "Whistling Rufus." The child is only five years old and her performance on the organ and singing was wonderful. The recitations by Miss Greenwood were just fine. The house was beautifully decorated and crowded with eager spectators and the tree had many things to gladden the anxious hearts. Miss Greenwood is doing fine work and has the confidence of her patrons.

After Investment Companies.

Thirteen investment companies at Lexington have been notified by the Postoffice Department that their letter mail will not be delivered. They are notified that they will be given a hearing on January 13. The Government holds that the investment companies are of the nature of lotteries and are obtaining money by fraudulent pretenses.

Leasing Bath Lands.

The Lexington Oil and Gas Company is leasing large tracts of land in the eastern part of Bath county for the purpose of drilling for oil at once. The Morehead Oil and Gas Company has completed a well on Scott's creek at a depth of 675 feet. A good flow of gas was struck, but no oil.

Howard Case.

It is generally believed that the trial of James Howard, docketed for the January term of the Franklin Circuit Court, will be postponed until the April term on account of the fact that neither side is anxious to hurry the case through, and it would for various reasons, be more convenient to hold the trial when the Legislature is not in session.

McKinley Fund.

In a circular letter signed by Gov. Durbin and the heads of the Christian Endeavor, Epworth League and Baptist Young People's Union, the churches of Indiana are requested to hold special services January 19th for the purpose of collecting contributions to the McKinley memorial fund.

We Duty

On Thursday the retail price of dressed turkeys in Louisville was 20c, and the supply was exhausted.

For Mother's Sake.

There is a pretty little story as to Governor Crane's reason for refusing a place in President Roosevelt's cabinet, says the Atlanta Constitution. The reason assigned by the Governor was sickness in his family and inability to arrange his affairs on short notice. It is said the real reason was the unwillingness of Governor Crane to leave his mother, who is very old, and who does not wish to go to Washington to live. When she was asked if she wanted her son to become a member of the cabinet she said she did not, and that settled it.

After all, could a dutiful son do less? The honors of office are but baubles, and not to be compared with a mother's love. Men are too prone to forget the old folks in the struggle for place and power. It is refreshing to read of an instance like this, where a man puts his mother's preference above his own.

"Honor thy father and thy mother" is one of the most beautiful laws ever written, and it should be so deeply engrained upon the heart that neither age, nor ambition, nor desire for wealth can obliterate it.

"Went to the Devil."

Some one has sent our friend, Bladens of the Winchester Sun, a rabbit foot. We are glad to know Will don't need it, but think he has sent "Frosty" way in the rear. Hear him: "We are under profound obligations to some one for this kind remembrance, but as we are in tolerably fair 'nick' just now, thank you, we have turned the package over to our 'devil,' who is perhaps the most hapless, the most luckless, the most shiftless weight in the shop."

Enterprise.

The Fiscal Court in session last week granted Right of Way and franchise to the Blue Grass Traction Company for an Electric railroad to be constructed from Winchester to Mt. Sterling. Work of surveying and locating will, weather favorable, begin within twenty days. Mr. John R. Allen represented the company before the court. The Fiscal Courts of Madison and Woodford counties have granted franchises to same company.

The Zionist Congress.

The Zionist Congress opened at Basle, Switzerland, Dec. 26, under the presidency of Dr. Theodore Herzl, of Vienna, the founder of the Zionist movement to Palestine. The congress is attended by over 1,000 delegates, representing every important country of the world, with the exception of Australia.

Wireless Telegraphy to be used on Warships.

The Navy Department has taken the initial steps toward the adoption of wireless telegraphy as a means of signaling between warships at sea. To this end Rear Admiral Bradford, of the Bureau of Equipment, has asked that the armored cruisers of the Pennsylvania class have their masts and rigging so arranged that the wireless system can be introduced.

The British navy already has a number of its ships equipped with the wireless system, but this is the first move on the part of the American navy to make use of a wireless plan.

British Artillery to be Withdrawn.

The War Office of England has decided to withdraw twenty batteries of artillery from South Africa at once. This action is taken on the ground that under the present conditions of guerrilla warfare the guns are of little use, and are rather a hindrance to mobility and decisive action. The third year of the war has ended and even now the prospect of British supremacy is discouraging.

Bryan's Paper Prosperous.

Mr. Bryan's Commoner will not cease publication, as has been reported. At no time within the eleven months of its existence has it been more prosperous than now. The paid circulation for last week was 10,300, and as the paper has a good supply of advertising at big rates, it is not wrong to say that Mr. Bryan will clean up $40,000 the first year. Mr. Bryan has no printing outfit, but thirty persons are employed in the business office to handle the incoming and departing mails.

More Investment Companies to Trouble.

The U. S. Postal authorities have prohibited the delivery of letters addressed to 13 investment companies at Lexington, Ky., on the ground that they are securing money by fraudulent means, much like lottery companies. The companies whose mail has been held up by order of the Postoffice Department will engage counsel to represent them on the day set for the department for hearing.

That Cough Hangs On

You have used all sorts of cough remedies but it does not yield; it is too deep seated. It may wear itself out in time, but it is more liable to produce la grippe, pneumonia or a serious throat affection. You need something that will give you strength and build up the body.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

will do this when everything else fails. There is no doubt about it. It nourishes, strengthens, builds up and makes the body strong and healthy, not only to throw off this hard cough, but to fortify the system against further attacks. If you are run down or emaciated you should certainly take this nourishing food medicine.

SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, New York.

Beginning to be Serious.

Report from Woodford county says that cattle are dying from a disease the cause of which is a mystery. Most of the cattle affected have been fed upon corn fodder and the first theory was that they were poisoned by "corn smut" which is present upon the stalks in unusually large quantities this year. Another belief was that the animals died from eating too much dry feed without enough salt and water, but cattle have recently died that had access to both salt and water.

The farmers are completely in the dark about the matter and the individual losses are beginning to be serious.

Farm Sold.

Mr. Albert Bonner, of this city, has bought of Henry Wilson his farm on Spencer Creek, formerly owned by G. W. Kemper, of 115 acres, for $8,300.

Money Stolen.

Hand Lacerated.

On Christmas evening at West Liberty, Finley Fogg had his hand lacerated by the explosion of a cannon cracker.

FITE-JONES.

A beautiful evergreen wedding was that of Rev. William Arthur Fite and Miss Mary Lindsey Jones which was solemnized at Somerset Christian church, in this county, Wednesday, Dec. 25, 1901, at high noon. At an early hour the bridal party, relatives and intimate friends of the bride entered her hospitable home, where they were handsomely entertained at breakfast served in elegant style, after which they drove to the church, which was crowded to its utmost capacity long before the hour for the ceremony. The interior of the building was artistically and handsomely decorated with evergreens. In the alcove back of the altar a bank of evergreen rose to the ceiling, while an arch from either side of the altar met at the top and supported a large dora decorated bell. To the right and left of the altar were evergreens and all the decorations were artistically intermingled with pink and white chrysanthemums and numerous candles in silver candelabra shed their soft lights on the scene. The whole formed a bower of loveliness. At 12:30 o'clock Miss Emily White was at her post of duty ready to read the music for Miss Lida Goodpastor, who most beautifully rendered the wedding march; and as the sweet strains pealed forth, the bridal party entered the church by the centre aisle and took their position as follows: Messrs. Hunter English and Charley Highland in front; Messrs. Tom Wilson and George Schlegel, ushers; the groom on the arm of his best man, Mr. Benjamin F. Glahn ascended the altar on the left; Little Miss Nancy Jones, sister of the bride, carrying beautiful pink and white carnations, ascended on the right and stood at the back of the altar; the bride on the arm of her uncle, Edward Jones, ascending on the right. The bride looked charming in an exquisite dress of white chiffon, trimmed with white lace, insertions and ribbon and carried a lovely bouquet of bride's roses. She wore a white tulle veil, caught with rose buds and diamonds and falling in graceful folds to the bottom of her train. The groom and his attendants wore the conventional black. At the altar the bridal party formed a handsome group and the ceremony joining in holy wedlock Mr. Fite and Miss Jones was impressively said by Rev. Tom Wilson. It was a pretty ceremony and at its conclusion the bridal party left the church by the centre aisle to the strains of the wedding march in the following order: Little Miss Nancy Jones scattering flowers in the path of the bride and groom, - Messrs. Jones and Glahn, Messrs. Wilson and Schlegel, Messrs. English and Highland. No prettier wedding was ever celebrated in Somerset church, nor none at which a more worthy young lady took upon herself the vows of matrimony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Jones, of this county, and is a charming, refined, cultured and attractive young lady. Her father is a prosperous farmer and the family one of the best in our county. The groom is pastor of the Christian church at Palmyra, Mo. Mr. and Mrs. Fite left Thursday night for Louisville, St. Louis and other points in the West where they will visit relatives until Jan. 1st and then they will be at home to their friends in Palmyra, Mo. Their presents were numerous and elegant. We join a host of friends in wishing them a prosperous and happy career.

OSBORNE-PARKER.

In the presence of W. B. O'Connell, C. M. Madden and Navey Clark a marriage occurred at the Clerk's office in this city on Saturday, December 28, at 5:45 p. m. The contracting parties were John T. Osborne, of Right Angle, Clark county, son of Simpson Osborne, of Indian Fields and Miss Maggie Parker, daughter of Joseph Parker, of same neighborhood. This was the second marriage for the groom.

The ceremony was performed by B. W. Trimble. The occasion was conspicuous for the contrast between this and some marriages of which we read. There was no retinue of friends in gayest attire; no enchanting strains of Mendelssohn fell upon the ear; no flowers added charm to blushing bride; no bride's maids bewitchingly gowned in rainbow tints; no groomsmen in conventional black drilled for the event, imparted gloss or tinsel. There was no craning of necks to see who came first; no disrespectful chatter and giggle; no mad rush for the door. Closed windows and waxen tapers in silver candelabra gave place to the curtain of night and one electric light. Confronted, respectful, loving and modest, they promised to live together as God would have them live. They went forth alone into the darkness of night, and who can say that their united lives and love may not be coveted by those upon whom Fortune has lavished her bounty and enticed to luxurious and hurtful ease. May God guide and bless them.

BENTON-WEST.

At the home of the bride's father, Mr. Thomas West, at Miller's Creek, on Thursday, December 19, at 2 p. m., Miss Fannie West was united in marriage to Mr. James Benton, of Irvine. The bride is the youngest daughter of the West family, and is a young woman of sterling qualities. The groom is a son of ex-Judge W. B. Benton and is a young man noted for his energy, thrift and integrity. The groom is a nephew of J. G. Trimble, of this city.

THOMAS-WATTS.

On Wednesday morning at 7 o'clock, Dec. 25, 1901, at the National Hotel, C. S. Thomas was married to Miss Queen Ella Watts, both of Spencer, this county. The ceremony was by B. W. Trimble. The couple left for a short visit to relatives in Mason county, driving in a buggy. After their return they will make their home on Spencer Creek.

FLANAGAN-TULLY.

At St. Patrick's Church Carlisle, this morning, Mr. John M. Flanagan, proprietor of the Bauman Hotel, this city, will be married to Miss Teresa Tully, of Carlisle.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

We are authorized to announce the marriage of Miss Ella Reid, daughter of Allen Reid, of this county, to Mr. John Lisle McCord, of Winchester. The prospective groom is a member of the firm of McCord & Hodgkin, shoe dealers, and is one of Winchester's

Will Visit Kentucky Legislature.

The management of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition will send a delegation of influential citizens to visit the Kentucky Legislature at its approaching session and boom the big World's Fair. It is hoped that the Legislature will make a good appropriation to the end that Kentucky may be fittingly represented. Among the members of the delegation who will visit Frankfort are Hon. David R. Francis, former Governor; Hon. Harry B. Hawes and Hon. Breckinridge Jones, all of whom are former Kentuckians and representative citizens of St. Louis. The delegates desire to address the Legislature in joint session.

Well Whipped.

King, a young colored boy, was tried before Judge Albert Hazelrigg Friday for stealing fruit from Cooper & Barnes and given 30 days in jail. His father told the Judge that if he would let the boy off he would give him a good whipping. Judge Hazelrigg consented to this, with the proviso that Deputy Jailer Chas. Shedd should say when the boy had enough. The boy was taken to the back of the jail, a buggy whip purchased, and when Charlie said stop—well, it was enough.

Post Office Fight.

The fight for the postoffice at Winchester is quite a lively one from reports. The present postmaster, R. R. Perry, has been recommended by Senator Deboe. He is opposed by J. M. Owen, a prominent Republican. It is said Capt. K. J. Hampton would accept the plum. Bro. Perry is editor of the Winchester Sentinel and has made that city a good postmaster, and considering the trials and tribulations of a newspaper man, we think Perry should have the plum. Bob, here's to you.

SHOT FROM WINDOW.

Riley Ham, a Barber, Shot and Seriously Wounded at Flemingsburg.

At Flemingsburg, Ky., Riley Ham, a well-known barber, was shot in the groin Dec. 27 and is in a critical condition. With several others he was engaged in exploding giant crackers in front of the house of Dan T. Fischer, when five shots in rapid succession were fired from a window and Ham fell wounded. Two large windows in Fischer's house had been smashed by the giant crackers.

Fischer was arrested and placed under bond. He is a prominent business man. Fischer is well known to many of our citizens.

Strange, Wasn't It?

One of our young society fellows goes out to a dance, takes his dress suit and case with him, comes back the next morning and upon opening his suit case finds that instead of his dress suit the case contains a silk dress of the highest lace, points, powders, hosiery, pads, and various other feminine paraphernalia which modesty prevents mentioning—such as go to make up a lady's ravestock. Still he denies having taken a drink. Moral: Young churchmen, remember your vows.

National Hotel Sold.

On yesterday Mr. Frank Hudson sold to Mr. F. M. (Cie) Ewing, of Bath, the National Hotel in this city for $17,500. Mr. Ewing has already taken possession. Mr. Labe Riddell will continue to be in charge. The building will be improved, but at present we can not give particulars. The sale was made by G. W. Baird.

The Lyric Ladies Concert Company have sung themselves into the hearts of the people throughout America and they stand today, unrivaled by any other similar organization before the public. ## Christmas.

The entertainment given by the First Presbyterian Sunday School, as usual, was very good. In this ideal Christmas service but one adult took part, Miss Daisy Greenwood, who made a most charming Mrs. Santa Claus. Gemil Seniff as old Santa Claus, may not have been quite so pretty but was just as effective. Their duet, "Grateful Hearts," was a gem. The refrain, "Oh, Wondrous Words and True, 'tis More Blessed to Give than to Receive," touched a responsive chord in every heart.

Each number on the program was well rendered and favorably received, the most fetching ones being in the Milliners' chorus, "Hats and Gowns," by Misses Ogg, Apperson, Lohme and Clark, whose dainty costumes and graceful poses captured the audience. The song of the little girls, as if the children would not like to go up to "Santa Land" where 'tis Christmas all the year, and the cradle song by Jane Joplin, was inexpressibly sweet, but the "Merry Brownies," Jim Vansant, Candler Flier, Byron Hall, David Wood, John Cassidy, Willis Lyons, George and Vaughn Joplin, capped the climax, as they gayly tripped and sang, especially "Grilled." They were received with demonstrations of delight, and were recalled to the evident satisfaction of the Browns. We would like to mention in detail the "Cooking," "Blacksmiths," "News Boys" and "Jo-Wai-Lee," for they all deserve praise. "Wah Lee" (Tom Vansant) costume was perfect and Santa Claus applauded his speech. The decorations were unique, and were put up under the direction of Dr. Arthur Joplin. Miss Minnie Groves presided at the organ and Dr. H. Van Antwerp with his clarinet added materially to the effectiveness of the music. After the benediction was pronounced, a substantial treat of fruits, nuts and candies was given to each member of the school and many other children.
